Dear Sirs

I am extremely disappointed to note that the vast majority of housing proposed by the latest Henfield Neighbourhood Plan is concentrated in large scale developments which is contrary to my understanding of what the majority of local residents voted for in the previous consultations. Having looked through the comments left by the residents at the previous open event where all the site options were displayed, a large majority of these stated their preference for future local developments to be small scale which would be far more in keeping with village character. However, this consultation appears to have been ignored.

Yours sincerely
